

Marketing Internship

Healthy Land and Water

Healthy Land and Water is an independent organisation dedicated to improving and protecting South East Queensland's environment. As experts in research, monitoring, evaluation and project management, we deliver innovative and science-based solutions to challenges affecting our landscapes, waterways and biodiversity.

What you can expect

The marketing intern(s) will contribute to website content and usability for our target audiences.

This internship is ideal for someone with an interest or experience in community-based environmental and/or social change.

This is an opportunity to gain experience with a Brisbane-based natural resource management organisation implementing real change to protect our environment.

The details

10 weeks
2 days per week
Brisbane CBD office

Expected skills

- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- Strong knowledge of public relations, marketing and digital communication
- Willingness to learn
- Self driven and team focused
- Experience with WordPress desirable but training will be provided

Skills you will gain

- Working collaboratively with internal and external stakeholders
- WordPress CMS
- Digital marketing
- Website content and SEO
- Website usability

The successful applicant(s) will work with our small marketing team in the Brisbane office for the duration of Semester 1, 2019 for an average of 15 hours per week. By bringing energy, creativity and applied knowledge, the successful applicant will gain a unique experience. No remuneration is offered.

How to apply?

Please provide a cover letter explaining why you chose HLW, how your interests/experience relate to our organisation, what skills you can bring to the team and what you aim to gain from your internship.

Submit your resume

Why Healthy Land and Water?

What makes you a good candidate?

Email jaimie.r@hlw.org.au by 11 March 2019