

Free gully erosion repair & pasture management field day

Landholders interested in learning about cost effective measures to control erosion and improve pasture condition on their properties are invited to attend Healthy Land and Water's free gully erosion and pasture management field day at Mulgowie.

Attendees will have the chance to inspect two recently completed small scale projects designed to control historic gully erosion. There will also be opportunities to discuss options and practical management practices to reduce erosion and maintain good pasture and land condition on their properties.

Topics will include:

- Managing and maintaining healthy pasture in cropping and grazing landscapes.
- Small scale, cost effective gully erosion control options.
- Using zero tillage techniques to establish pastures and crops.
